

CLUBS & NIGHTLIFE

By Jason Dhir

Spicebar – Located in the Arena District

Spice is not your typical lounge. It has three main rooms and a patio. Its chic designs cut down on the throbbing pulse of a rave club making this an ideal martini and cocktail drinking lounge. This is the atmosphere that Columbus craves. It's a great location for business meetings, dancing or just chilling out with your other half. But, this doesn't mean they don't play music. You can expect house, top 40, and any request that would make your experience an enjoyable one. It's a great place to check out!

Sugar bar

This is the sister club to Spice, with a rather flirtatious flair. This versatile club offers an experience that you can enjoy under any circumstance. Whether it's a burlesque strip tease to a raging crowd, anything is possible here.

Carlile Club

Carlile Club is one kick ass place to throw a party. The layout is very unique. It has a very small yet intimate bar upstairs and a wild dance club in the basement. The downstairs has a VIP area behind a nice sized dance floor that can get really nasty when you get a kick ass DJ in there. I threw a code access party here and it is a killer spot for 350-400 people that want to shake it on the dance floor and then relax in front row seats and people watch. This is where I coined the term "Rave in the Cave."

Club Karma

Ah yes, this is the official spot for the '07 Charity After Bash IV. When you need a giant club, this is where to roll up. The 75,000 watt sound system (in one room!) and several other rooms pack some serious artillery for some next-level energy. Heart pounding techno and current top 40 are lock and key for their sound system. It's newly renovated interior still provides a clean and classy atmosphere while allowing you to release with unstoppable partying. Park once and see it all. This multiple roomed meta-club is the ONLY spot to throw a massive after-bash this year.
